But since hands are supposed to be of more than normal size in a photograph, it may be well to adopt some of the many ways of disposing of them so that they will look smaller. One of these is to rest the hand on the little finger, curving the fingers slightly inward. The best use of the hands is to allow them a natural pose with relation to some object—as a letter, book or piece of embroidery.

The Convention. The Republican State Convention vesterday reached the point of balloting for Governor. Four candidates-Swift, Hartson, Dimond and Reed-baving been placed in nomination, six ballots taken, without result. The ballot, finished at 10 o'clock last night, resulted as follows: Dimond. 155; Swift, 125; Hartson, 105; Reed, Swift steadily increased, and in greater impatient, also hot. ratio than any of the other candidates but on the sixth ballot he fell off six votes -a change of no special signifi-The balloting will be resumed at 10 point to the nomination of Mr. Swift on the seventh or eighth ballot. General Dimond appears to have polled nearly his full strength from the outset, and, as will be seen from the figures, increased his strength only very slightly after the first ballot.

The hope and expectation of Swift's friends is that he will receive enough accessions to his strength by drafts from the battalions of Hartson and Reed to nominate him by noon to-day.

The Defeat of Judge Brunson.

The result of the balloting yesterday for Associate Justices was a sore disappointment to thousands of citizens of Southern California, of both parties and all classes. Not that the successdently desired the nomination of one of n his profession and a jurist of acknowledged legal learning and wide grasp of grave problems of law; and they are disappointed that he should have been unsuccessful in the race. He was defeated, not fairly, but slaughtered in the house of his friends in furtherance of a base bargain, the onsideration being the alleged paraount interests of another Los Angeles candidate, Walter S. Moore, who is giv ing everything in sight, and sacrificing every other candidate, high or low, to this treasonable raid he is actively sec onded by others of his ilk, with 'Smoothy" Boyce at their head.

When, in the afternoon session the Los Angeles delegation asked "permission to retire for consultation," perfidy was suspected, for there was no occasion, that anybody present could see, for any break in the Judge Brunson up to that time. The cologne. on the convention of indecision thus exposed by parent. The convention saw that the emits a perfume and two or three carried in a wagon will scent: "fall down," and they at once comed to fall away from Judge Brunson. The delegation returned to the hall, and its chairman, Boyce, haltingly will make the toucher wish he had been

A New Colony. Colton Semi-Tropic.

The Chicago Association, formed last spring, for the purpose of furnishing homes for one hundred families in Southern California, recently sent out a commission, consisting of R. J. Waters of 80 Dearbon street, H. C. Malone of Evans avenue and W. J. Ludlam. These gentlemen, says the Riverside Press, made a tour of Southern California. After a careful study of the State, they arranged to locate their colony between Redlands and Crafton, in this county, on some of the choicest lands in the county. Measrs. Malone and Ludlam have returned to Chicago, and Mr. Waters will return in a few days. Messrs. Judson & Brown have undertaken to supply the colony with land and water. The water is to be piped to and through the land within four months, and during the coming winter the settlers are to locate thereon and commence improvements.

Nomination of Governor. Nomination of Lientenant-Governo Nomination of Secretary of State. Nomination of State Controller. Nomination of State Treasurer. Nomination of Attorney General. Nomination of Surveyor General

Mr. Chandler, of Sutter, the Committee on Permanent Organiza-tion and Order of Business, then put the motion to make the temporary officers permanent. The motion was carried unani-mously, amid applause.

General Barnes then spoke, as follows:
GEN. W. H. L. Bannes.
Gentlemen of the Convention: I said yesterdey, in taking my seat as Temporary Chairman, that, should I be permitted to continue as your permanent presiding officer, I should take that occasion Fellow citizens, this year California has had an appeal to its patriotism such as we have never yet seen.

Part of that grand eld remnant of the Army of the Republic swept across the plains and came and visited us in California. They had fought our battles at home by day and night, in siege and came, in storm and sunshine, over mountains and across rivers, to meet the angry and bitter foe—these pilgrims of the Army of Liberty, who had borne our flag and our ensign to victory. [Cheers.] And we welcomed them here with a right royal welcome. And those Republicans in the State of California whose hearts, were not larger, whose love is not greater for his country when he saw that remnant of the army and those torn and tastered.

Amador county.

Bell, of Shasta, moved to extend the rivilege of all counties whose delegates did not exceed tea. [Cries of "No."]

Weaver, of Humboldt, remarked that the convention had already loss thalf an hour on the matter, and moved to lay the whole thing on the table. Carried.

Fitch, of San Francisco, withdrew his nomination of Southard, with the privilege to renewing it for the short term.

PATTERSON MOMINATED.

The vote was then taken, with the following result: Patterson, 318; McFarland, 27; Brunson, 194; Hamilton, 167; Lattimer, 8. Necessary to a choice, 230.

Patterson was then declared the first nomine. ted to continue as your permanent presiding officer, I should take that occasion in accordance with the custom that seems to me to be almost more to be honored in the breach than in the observance, of addressing you upon taking my seat as the Permanent President of this Convention. And I desire again to thank you very cordially for the honor you have conferred upon me; for, truly, I feel it to be a very great honor for any citizen to be selected to preside over the deliberations of a body such as this. And although my personal preferences are well known, I promise to you and to those whose interests you have at heart, that, if I know how to be just and fair, if I may fall in any sense, so long as I am here upon this platform, to put behind me all personal thoughts or preferences, such as they may be, I will do it fully, fairly and honessty. [Cheers.]

I know it has been said, and said more in the section of the State from which I come—because there the Chairman of this Convention is much better known than to you here—that it is hardly the thing for one who is known as a railroad attorney to mix up in politics. There seems to be a kind of fatnity in the in the State of California whose hearts were not larger, whose love is not greater for his country when he saw that remnant of that army and those torn and tattered battle flags that suffered and told such a tale of woe and misery when in the crowning hour of victory they preserved the flags that had been born and torn, as the army journal used to say, in the midst of the army, the standard which the soldiers behind loved better than everything else, and when they threw themselves into the fight and gathered it from its dangerous position.

for one who is known as a railroad attorney to mix up in politics. There seems to be a kind of fatuity in the average mind, and it is especially prevalent in the California mind, that if a lawyer be associated professionally with any corporation, he thereby becomes, in a measure disfranchised, or else he carries his retainer with him in every relation of life, socially and politically, and comes among his fellow men to act as he is fold to act, and to wear a collar.

Gentlemen of the Coavention, I take this occasion to say that, as long as I have been in the service of one of the great the second position.

And as I looked on those torn and worn at 1:15 p. m. the convention myself: How well the American people ought to love that fast decreasing army of ought to love that fast decreasing a and which, scomer or later, must be de-termined upon—that some of up came here as the agents, perhaps, or represent-atives of an interested vote which called the special session of the Legislature. One of the leading journals of San Fran-cisco declared in an editorial in that paper that I represented in a measure that interest. Now, I take this occasion to say, fellow-citizens, that that is a long mistake. I represent no interest of that kind. I consider the California—and I am talking now for myself for a moment —I consider the California special session of the Legislature one of the heat things.

at the right time. [Loud and prolonged obsers.]

I deprecate more than all other things the assault that was made, or attempted to be made, by the Executive of this State upon a co-ordinate branch of its constitutional powers. (Cheers.) I desire to say for myself that I know, so far as I am capable of understanding the proposition, that the Supreme Court of this State decided the law upon that water question as the law is. I believe they did. I believe that, when they were attacked for that decision, for the reason that they made it, there was a revolutionary act committed, and which, if justified or sanctioned by the people of this State, puts us in a worse condition than a citizen of the Mexican republic; and I would rather be a native African in the wild jungles of Africa than to live in a civilization or a civilized community that would tolerate such conduct as that. [Cheers.]

George E. Gard, of Los Angeles, moved as an amendment to Mr. Mizner's motion that the two candidates for Judge receiving the highest number of votes be nominated for the long term, and the one receiving the lowest number be for the short term. The motion was seconded. Mr. Mizner, of Solano, said that Mr. Mr. Gard's motion would make confusion. Each candidate should stand on his own responsibility.

The Chair then put the question of Gard's amendment to a vote, and it was lost.

B. C. Gaskill, of Alameds, inquired whether or not the plurality should decide. The Chair announced that the majority vote should decide all questions.

Geo. E. Gard, of Los Angeles, wanted to know if only two judges were to be nominated. (Ories of "No.")

The amendment of Mr. Mizner being put to a vote, first, for two judges for the long term, and, second, for one judge for the unexpired term of Judge Boss, was then carried, and the original motion, as amended, was then carried, thus adopting the report of the Committee on

The chair finally, to settle the confusion, declared a recess of five minutes during which there was a great deal of the confusion of the confusion of the confusion of the confusion of the call of the Let us have none of that in California.

And whatever we think, whatever we feel, however our passions may be aroused, our prejudices and our convictions in this contest, when the war is over and we come home, let there be no laggards in the field nor any sulkers in the tents.

I pledge to you that, whoever shall be the choice of this convention, shall be my choice. [Cheers]. I ask of you that, whoever shall be the choice of this convention, shall be your choice [cheers], and that we shall go onward gladly, manly and happily to the victory that is before us, and shall make our flag and our country the one thing that we love the best.

And I say again, there is not a Republican in the State of California whose heart was not greater and grander, who did not learn a new lesson of love for country.

And I hope that the impress of the Grand darmy of the Republic upon the State of California, with the shouts of welcome that we gave to them, and the prodigal hospitality that the State extended to them, may give to them and to all lovers of the Nation a better and higher reset of the Republican voters which will fall army of Republican voters which will fall into line when in 1888 we shall take our thousand the state of the Republican voters which will fall into line when in 1888 we shall take our thousand the state of the Republican voters which will fall into line when in 1888 we shall take our thought the state of the Republican voters which will fall into line when in 1888 we shall take our the state of the Republican voters which will fall into line when in 1888 we shall take our the state of the Republican voters which will fall into line when in 1888 we shall take our the state of the Republican voters which will fall into line when in 1888 we shall take our the state of the Republican voters which will fall into line when in 1888 we shall take our the state of the Republican voters which will fall into line when in 1888 we shall take our the state of the Republican voters which will fall into line when in 1888 we shall take our the state of the Republican voters which will fall into line when in 1888 we shall take our the state of the Republican voters which will fall into line when in 1888 we shall take our the state of the Republican voters which will fall into line when in 1888 we shall take our the state of the Republican voters which will fall into line when in 1888 we shall take our t

When it took the government from the Democratic party it found a country disturbed by dissensions, States seceding and threatening secession, the treasury empty, the public credit impaired, the arsenals plundered, fortresses invested, a hostile government whose foundation was human slavery fully armed in our midst, open foes at the South and secret enemies at the North.

When called upon to surrender its great when called upon to surrender its great trust, it delivered to its successor a united country, a free people, an overflowing treasury, public credit higher than that of any other nation on earth, arsenals and the Government works intact, the flag of the Union floating in peace over a great, prosperous and happy nation, commanding the respect and admiration of mankind.

The Democratic administration of Cleveland has failed to keep the pledges Cleveland has failed to keep the pledges upon which it came into power. It promised retrenchment and economy, but has been the most extravagant ever known. It promised to uphold the dignity and honor of the republic and protect American citizens and their rights of person and property both at home and abroad, but has proved incapable of securing an honorable adjustment of the fisheries question, and has, with seeming indifference, subjected the United States to the humiliation of seeing our flag insulted, our seamen seized and vessels of our citizens confiscated by the authorities of Canada, while, with rash haste and blundering, it has involved us in unjustifiable complications with our friendly neighbor, the sister Republic of Mexico, a fact which seriously calls attention to the Republican National platform in its enumeration of the doctrine of international arbitration for international differences and to the importances of the recent Act of the Senate of the United States in unanimously passing a bill for a congress of American nations in the interest of peace and commerce. It promised civil service reform, but has made that phrase odions by not only removing, cago in 1884 and the State platform adopted at Sacramento in the same year, in so far as now applicable, the Republican party of California makes the following additional declaration of principles:

Labor is honorable, and the laborer in every walk of life should be honored. Upon free, intelligent labor and its wise direction depends the prosperity of the mation. Everything which is useful or valuable to man is the result of labor in some form, and its careful protection should be the first consideration of the statesman. The value of labor must depend upon its producing capacity, and this must be measured by the intelligence of the laborer. The liberal education of the people, therefore, is the first step towards the greatest, the wisest, and the most profitable development of the re-distribution of water and its utilization by the people upon equal terms, then such rights should be condemned and taken for public use under the same principles upon which all property is condemned and taken for public use, upon compensation being made therefor.

We demand an amendment to the Constitution which will permit such local and special legislation as may be necessary to effectuate these purposes.

THE EXTRA SESSION.

We declare, that the calling of an extra session of the Legislature for the purpose of reversing a decision of the Supreme Court of the State has no parallel in the history of this country. That the policy which dictated it was un-American and revolutionary, and that no words of censure can adequately characterize this attempt to destroy the independence of a co-ordinate branch of the Government. The Republican party submits its platform and its candidates to the intelligent independence of the State of California, who for thirty-dve years have witnessed the unpurchasable integrity of a candidate from his youth up to the present time, it devolves on me to nominate for the office of Governor Chancellor Hartson, of the State crushed on account of the taxation imposed upon it. CATARRH

Trested npon a new principle, founded upon the fact now generally asknowledged by the most scientific men, that the disease is caused by the presence of living parasites in the tissues. The parasites can be demonstrated (Parasites from nose magnified 480 times. The disease is first located in the anterior part of the nose, and the patient seems to have a cold in the head from which he is scarcely ever free. This gradually extends to the posterior nares, and muous is drawn back into the throat, or merely drops into the throat, especially in the morning. There is often a desire to clear the throat, especially before speaking.

In some cases olceration very soon commences, which may involve the bones of the nose or face, and pieces of bone may be discharged. The breath may become so offensive as to make the sufferer a burden to himself and isolate him from society.

So various are the symptoms that the patient is often unaware that he has chronic caterrh, and attributes the trouble to merely a cold, and thinks it will soon pass off, and his mistake is not recognized until such symptoms become apparent as denote the rapid progress of the disease to the lurge. The head is often affected, causing vertigo or dizziness, impaired memory, despondency, etc.

Very many cases of indigestion and bowel troubles are due to catarrh, and can be very readily cured.

The doctor makes a suppository that is a sure cure for blind, bleeding or itching piles. Minety per cent of cases of catarrh, whether of one or forty years' standing, can be permanently cured by this system.

Chronic-Bronohitis is merely catarrh of the lungs, and can readily be cured by inhastions, combined with constitutional remedies for the liver and blood and to build up the general system.

The Vine Doctor.

Anahelm Gazette.l Mr. F. W. Morse, of the State Uniwersity, was in town several days this week, in pursuance to a request made in accordance with Prof. Hilgards letletter, published last week. Mr. Morse was the guest of Mr. Langenburger, and under his pilotage made a less and thorough inspection of the burger, and under his pilotage made a close and thorough inspection of the diseased vines in the various vine-yards. Until he systematically arranges his notes, and studies them in the various bearings., he is not prepared to say positively what are the causes of the present trouble. His impression is, however, that the cause is to be found in climatic conditions: i. e., warm weather early in the sea-son, forcing the flow, producing sick-ness in the vine. Microscopic exami-nations of the roots show them to be perfectly healthy, and in very many instances they are now sending out shoots, from which it may be assumed that it will be safe to leave the roots in the ground instead of digging them out next pruning season. Mr. Morse states that this vine trouble is not confined to this county, but has been manifest for several years in the northern vine-growing counties.

Passdena Union, Jr.1

We had the pleasure, Monday, in company with Mr. Crisp, of Sierra Madre, in visiting the water tunnel being run by that colony. It is a joint affair, being the property of the whole community in proportion to one share to each acre of land. It is started for a 300-foot tunnel, and is now in 176 feet, and has been so successful as already to have got a flow of 18 inches of water under a 4-inch pressure. The inner end of the tunnel is a shower-bath, water spurting fron all directions, and the men working there get as wet as rats. If it goes fron all directions, and the men working there get as wet as rats. If it goes in at this rate to the end of the 300 feet for which it is contracted, the result will be a young river. The value of Sierra Madre property is already very much stiffened by this development, and that beautiful place will increase much in presentity in consement, and that beautiful place will increase much in prosperity in consequence. The flow of water in the tunnel is now so great that it is very difficult to work there, and the men blast out the rock with giant powder cartridges that can be exploded under water, touched off by electricity. The contractors are Messrs. Richardson & In the matter of the Estate of B. B. Mc-Gaughey, deceased.

A Smart Vineyard. Ansheim Gazette.J

On the place of M. C. Bennerscheidt, west of the depot, is a Berger vine-yard set out this spring, that will beat the average two-year-old vines all hollow. The vines have made an astonishing growth, and the branches on the vines of one row perly touch on the vines of one row nearly touch those of the opposite row. Last year Mr. Bennerscheidt grubbed up three acres of his Muscats, and this spring planted the Bergers of which we now speak. It is also surprising that they should have grown so thriftily and rapidly after having been planted on soil that had nourished Muscat vines for eight years or more. Can it be that the Muscat roots left imbedded in the ground during the process of grubbing, acted as a fertilizer? This vineyard is well worth a visit to those who doubt our statement.

"Oh, Grover, what is this?" she cried, And Grover looked and smiled; Then blushed and, hesitating, said: "Why, that's a balt can, child."

"A bait-can dear?" she questioned him,
"What makes it smell so queer?'
"Oh—ah." he said, "that's spirits to

"You sweet old thing," she softly said, With other loving terms, "How good and kind you are to those Poor little fishing worms."

The Chicago Graphic News, L. M. Holt and His Unpaid Bills.

To the Editor of the Times -SIR: On arrival in Los Angeles to-day my atten ion has been called to an attack on me through your columns, by H. N. Rust, of Pas dens, and the Chicago Illustrated Graphic. Having been away from home, I had not seen the paper

The letters from the Graphic to Mr. Rust are all full of willful falsehoods. I will give the facts of the case: During the h lding of the Chicago Citrus Fair, the Chicago Illustrated Graphic, in one of its issues, gave a portrait of H. N. Rust, and stated in connection therewith that Mr. Rust was the general manager of the Onicago Citrus Fair, and he appeared to receive the entire credit of getting up the exhibit, and placing it in Chicago. The other three managers—J. E. Clarke, C. Z. Culver, and myself—felt that an injustice had been done to us, and so told the agent, D. C. Roberts, of the Graphic, who visited the Fair. He said his paper would do anything reasonable to correct the false impression. After a few days Mr. Boberts came to the Fair days Mr. Roberts came to the Fair again, and desired to get a copy of the colored lithograph; as they desired to reproduce it in the Graphic in one colors. The lithograph was not yet complete, but we finished him a copy printed in three or four colors. He also desired Mr. Culver, Mr. Clark and myself to give him our photographs and he would have them engraved for the paper also. We did so. Mr. Culver and Mr. Clarke alterwards withdrew their photographs. but as mine was in the photographs, but as mine was in the hands of the engraver I let it go. Mr. Roberts also desired Mr. Clark to write up an article on Southern California to up an article on Southern California to appear in the same paper. He consented to do so, and he furnished the copy. He then desired me to write an article regarding the Fair and Riverside, which I did. He then wanted to know if we did not want some extra copies of the paper. We said we did. Mr. Clarke ordered 250 or 500 copies, I forget which, and Mr. Culver did the same. I ordered 1000 copies, and the written to contain the wood engravings, which were to be first class. The view of the Fair was to be a reproduction of the Inter-Ocean's lithograph.

The C.trus Fair closed before the paper was issued, and I went to the Graphic office and requested them to set d me six copies of the paper when it was out to my address at Rockford, Ilimois, where I was to go on a visit The papers came in due course of mail, and I found that the view of the fair it was out to my address at Rockford, Illinois, where I was to go on a visit the papers came in due course of mail, and I found that the view of the fair had been taken from a proof-sheet that was very incorrect, and not from the few days, informing the whites that they convend them have been taken from the few days, informing the whites that they convend them have been taken from the few days, informing the whites that they convend them have the man. copy showed them by me. In the bird's eye view at the top of the lithograph they had Riverside located where San Gabriel is, and there were other bad mistakes which had been corrected in these papers I visited Chicago, an louid to Michigan, and called on the publisher of the Graphic, and as he was not in, I was referred to D. C. Boberts, the agent, who took the contract. I told him of the mistake, and he regretted very much that it had occurred. The view of the Fair, which I was particular and I suggested that for my edition they correct the plate and print another edition of the supplement, and fold them in the papers sent me. He said they could do so, and they would be d to correct the matter in that way I told the m when they were done to ship the papers to me at Riverside, and on y return home I would send a check or the amount of $100. He agreed to do so, and said the matter was entirely satisfactory. The bulk was so great ordered them shipped as freight, and they would be there by the time I ar-

On arrival at home after my trip to San Francisco I found that the papers had not come, but a telegram was there stating that if I would send them the money by telegraph the papers would be shipped. I declined to do it. I had no on to believe that the correction had been made, and I declined to buy goods in that way. They then drew on me for $100, and I declined to honor the draft for the same reason.

I then received threatening letters from D. C. Roberts, in which he made various insinuations against me and my work in Chicago. I paid no attention to him, and now 1 am to be hounded in this manner. I went to Chicago to represent Southern California at a pecuniary loss to myself. I paid all my bills while there, and because I decline to be victimized in this way, I am to be pursued like a thief.

I regret very much and am surprised that you should open your columns to such an attack without first getting both sides of the story.

I deny having ordered any $300 worth of papers. I will give one thousand dollars for any unpaid board bills of mine contracted in Chicago during my late visit to that city.

If the Graphic has a legal contract against me—and it is in writing—it can be collected, as I am yet perfectly good for a judgment of one hundred dollars.

In conclusion, I would say that while in Sacramento, a few days since I saw in Sacramento a few days since I sav a copy of the Chicago Graphic in the office of the Record-Union, of the same date of the issue of which I ordered 1000 copies, and it contained much of the same illustrations and reading matter, but nothing about the fair. I obtained the copy for ...

but have lost it. I came to the ...

The latter does not know what was contained in the package addressed to him, but in Mr. Hiltscher's package was a draft for $2,200 ou a Los Angeles bank, payment of which has been stopped. The government is not responsible for the loss of registered matter, but endeavers to fix the responsibility for the ors to fix the responsibility for the loss and punish the offender.

A Parallel Case.

Anaheim Gazette. The Assembly rejected the constitutional amendment reorganizing the Supreme Court by a vote of 42 to 12. That is good. If the Court is to be reorganized it ought to be done at another time, in another way, and for another cause. It is a revolutionary and barbarous proceeding to surreptitiously bounce a court because its decision don't please us. The same crude views of justice are entertained by certain tribes of Indians who kill the medicine men when, according to their notion, too many of his patients

The Ignored Critics.

Our review of Literary Life will be condensed in one typical quotation from the extraordinary editorials of Miss Cleveland, who demands that all its contributors shall "point their pens with nerve points and dip them in blood." This is a specimen of the hysterical quality of the concection, and as newspaper space is valuable and should represent something, we shall devote no which, and Mr. Culver did the same. I more to this publication, of which the ordered 1000 copies, and the written most charitable judgment could only be contract stipulated that the paper was that it is intended as a joke of the silly eason and a burlesque on literature.
